Reds Within Sight of Warsaw; German Plight is Serious

Nazi Baltic Divisions Face Entrapment as Russians Press On

London, July 29.—(AP)—Red army spearheads rolling across the Polish plain were reported within sight of Warsaw today and the German communique said other forces had penetrated the Latvian rail hub of Jelgava, which would practically bisect the Baltics.

The German bulletin said a Nazi counterattack had thrown the Russian vanguard out of Jelgava, 120 miles northwest of Daugavpils (Dvinsk) and about 21 miles southwest of Riga on an arm of the Baltic sea.

British dispatches from the eastern front said Warsaw could

Outer Defenses of Florence Cracked; Fighting Is Bitter

Rome, July 29.—(AP)—Desert-hardened, New Zealand veterans have cracked Nazi defenses south of Florence and knifed their way into the last mountain line only five miles from the historic city, allied headquarters announced today.

The break-through provoked strong German counterattacks, and bitter fighting was reported in the hills overlooking Florence.

The momentum of the savage counter-thrusts by Nazi infantry and Tiger tanks swept the leading company of New Zealanders back 600 yards, but official reports said the enemy then was brought to a halt and positions in the hills were being firmly held.

The New Zealand advance took off from a bridgehead over the small Pesa river at Cerbaia.

Threat to City Grows

The threat to Florence also grew, as South African troops crossed the Greve river, two miles south of Impruneta, which is only five and a half miles from the city's boundaries.

Aside from the bitter fighting in the New Zealanders' sector there was scant fighting of consequence yesterday, along the remainder of the Italian front.

Official reports said the situation on the Fifth Army front was unchanged, with American and German artillery continuing a duel across the lower Arno river. No mention was made of whether either side was shelling the city of Pisa after a plea by Pope Pius for consideration of its historical and religious significance.

Fighting apparently raged on in the vicinity of Jelgava as the Russians threatened to punch off German Baltic divisions by gaining mastery of the rail line from Sauliai to Kaunas. The Russians already held Sauliai, 50 miles south of Jelgava.

The Germans declared they still held Siedlee, 50 miles east of Warsaw, but Russian dispatches said Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's right wing was moving on the city, for the purpose of joining forces which were battling Germans in the streets after capturing Brest-Litovsk. Dispatches did not locate the Russian spearhead positions.

Women to Bear Brunt of Work in Germany

London, July 29.—(AP)—Germany's women will have to shoulder heavier burdens on the home front, Nazi broadcasts disclosed today, as Reichminister Paul Joseph Goebbels and his staff hastened the process of squeezing into the hard-pressed German army the last available manpower fit for military service.

Extension of the working woman's age from 45 to 50 appeared among the first measures expected in the latest "all out" mobilization, said Transocean, Nazi propaganda agency. It added that "real employment" for women was contemplated, noting that up to now many women, "although legally obliged to work did only nominal work by registering with relatives."

Apparently attempting to put the best possible face on this new scraping of the barrel for more men for the army, the broadcast sought to give the impression that barracks in Germany now were filled with reserves ready to rush to the fronts.

The speed of mobilization of Germany's reserves will depend on how quickly the barracks can be emptied, Transocean said.

Top Scoring Ace of Air Force Missing

Oil City, Pa., July 29.—(AP)—The parents of Lt. Col. Francis S. Gabreski, top scoring ace in the U. S. Air Force with 31 planes to his credit, were notified by the war department today that he has been "missing in action" since July 20.

Up to July 20, Lt. Col. Gabreski had shot down 28 planes in the air and destroyed three on the ground.

Search for Missing Airman Continues Today, Five Safe

Greenville, Me., July 29.—(AP)—Rescue squads which in two days have brought safely out of northern Maine's wilderness four pilots and one passenger who either crashed, parachuted, or landed in woodlands, resumed their search today for the one airman unaccounted for in a flight of nine planes from Moncton, N. B., to Dayton, Ohio.

The missing plane, piloted by Kenneth Tidd, 35, of Dayton, was believed down in the area between Baker Lake and the St. John chain of lakes north of Moosehead lake.

It was in this section that searchers yesterday found James Curt, 31, of Dayton, and Ben Thyson, 55, of Vandalia, O., general manager of the Dayton Aircraft Exchange, walking along a wood "toe" road, and located Earl Ashford, 30, of Rockford, Ill., sitting unhurt on his wrecked craft. Thyson was a passenger in Curt's small plane.

Curt and Thyson, whose plane was not badly damaged, expressed belief Tidd's craft had come down about 35 miles from theirs.

Three Arrive on Schedule

Three of the planes, all of which left Moncton last Wednesday, arrived on schedule at Millinocket, Me., another reached Megantic, Que., after landing and refueling near Chamberlain Lake in Maine. The planes were purchased from the Canadian government by a group of Dayton men.

Ashford, sighted from the air by a civil air patrol pilot flying the plane of Lt. Col. Guy P. Gannett, Maine CAP wing commander, related that the planes became separated in a rain storm as their fuel supplies were nearly exhausted.

He saw Curt's plane move into a tree as it landed and then brought his own down in a swamp where it overturned.

He was without food for two days, taking shelter from the rain in his leaking plane and filtering water into a grass-lined hole to quench his thirst.

U. S. Forces Smash Into Coutances as Tank Battle Grows

Americans Threaten to Burst Lines Blocking Way to Paris

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, July 29.—(AP)—U. S. tanks drove southward in a new burst of speed today threatening German lines blocking the way to the heart of France after hammering back the first strong enemy armored counterattack east of captured Coutances.

(DNE, the German news agency, reported the Germans are about to withdraw their entire western wing of the invasion front "to shorten lines" and declared the Americans were bringing up reinforcements for a large-scale offensive.)

Already tank guns commanded the road networks feeding into Brehal, 11 miles below Coutances and 2½ miles from the sea, through which Field Marshal Erwin Rommel was trying to extricate troops for a fresh stand.

More than 100 duels raged between American Sherman tanks and great 60-ton German Tiger tanks, by-passed in the rush of American armor in a high forest.

Bulgaria Requests Nazis' Evacuation

Istanbul, July 27.—(Delayed)—(AP)—The government of Premier Ivan Bagrianov has asked Germany to evacuate all German armed forces from Bulgaria and there are indications that the request may be heeded, according to information received here today. The Bulgars were reported to demand that the government would defend the nation against attack "from any quarter."

The Germans at first refused to grant the Bulgarian request, the report said, on the ground that their other satellites might make the same demand and that prestige was involved, but developments suggest that this stand was reconsidered.

The Bulgars meanwhile are granting Soviet demands for establishment of Russian consulates in most of the country's chief ports and towns.

They have pointed out to the Germans, the report further related, that the Nazi troops in Bulgaria, estimated now at less than two divisions, are of no military help and draw allied bombing.

Among indications the Nazis may be preparing to get out of Bulgaria was a report from Rusechuk that Germans, just withdrawn from Varna and Burgas, now are concentrated in Rusechuk on the Danube just across from the Rumanian port of Giurgiu. Another report said Germans in southern Bulgaria now are massed close to the Greek frontier.

Two Thousand Japs Slain in Battle of Orote; Climax Near

By PERCY FINCH Representing the Combined Allied Press

Aboard Rear Adm. Richard L. Conolly's flagship off Guam, July 29.—(AP)—via Navy Radio)—The battle for Orote peninsula and the annihilation of its pocketed 2,000 surviving Japanese defenders continues with unabated intensity, but it is entering its final stage despite strong enemy resistance.

Two thousand counterattacking Japanese were slain Tuesday in bitter fighting within a hundred yards of the American beachhead.

The Japanese hold a line of dug-outs and pillboxes stretching across the island near the strategic air field. U. S. Marines have advanced within 300 yards of the tip of the promontory beyond which lie the sea and Admiral Conolly's fleet.

The Japanese holding the peninsula have been pounded with the fury of a man-made earthquake by air and naval bombardment.

I saw cruisers standing out to sea deliver the most concentrated half hour of fire I have ever seen. The big guns shot with almost machine-gun rapidity until the ships were hidden in their own powder smoke.

Ashore the shells ripped into a deluge of fire near Haputo Point and the explosions created the effect of a constantly erupting volcano. If ever there was an inferno on earth it was there.

This morning, after a night of thunderous assault in the glare of starshells, the bombardment reached new heights. For 45 minutes dozens of carrier planes dived low over the peninsula blanketing the extreme end with big bombs and deluging Japanese lines with smaller bombs.

Scarcely had a plane left the target and climbed into the blue sky than the warships and land artillery started shelling. Naval guns pounded the targets above the steep cliffs, while land artillery systematically covered the peninsula from the water's edge to the extreme tip with a creeping pattern of fire which moved up and down the enemy lines.

The softening up bombardment will expedite the capture of this vital peninsula with its big airfield and harbor of which Americans hold two sides, and also former American possessions, including Sunay residential area, Marine barracks, the Commercial Pacific Cable Co. station, and Pan-American Airways hotel—or what remains of them.

An employee of a local firm, on the way to a night depository, had stopped at the mail box to mail some letters and had forgot the bag, containing $10,992.

Anshan, Industrial Center of Mikado's Empire, Bombarded

Penhsihu Also Bombarded; Tokyo Radio Broadcasts Bad News

By VERN HAUGLAND Associated Press, War Editor Superfortresses, striking boldly at the industrial heart of the enemy, raided Japan's great arsenals in Manchuria for the first time today.

Four hours after B-29 raids upon the Mukden area of Manchuria were announced the Tokyo radio acknowledged attacks upon the important industrial cities of Anshan and Penhsihu, in eastern Manchuria.

The jumbled Tokyo broadcast indicated that the Japanese may have claimed the destruction of one of the bombers, and added, "no material damage was suffered by industrial installations, but residential quarters sustained some slight damage."

Anshan is an iron and steel center of 200,000 population. Penhsihu produces coal and cement. The B-29s hit in daylight today, in contrast to their two previous strikes—June 15 and July 7—both against Japan, at night.

Tokyo radio had other bad news to report—an attack by 500 carrier-based planes upon Palau Friday; and a simultaneous strike by 20 carrier planes "south of Palau." There was no allied confirmation of these raids. American carrier planes attacked Palau, 530 miles east of the Philippines, Tuesday and Wednesday, destroying 28 Japanese planes and sinking a destroyer and seven smaller vessels.

In the Marianas, American B-29s killed 2,000 Japanese in beating down an enemy counter-attack early Tuesday, and then moved to within a third of a mile of Agaña, the capital city.

Marines on Tinian, 125 miles north of Guam, advanced three miles with the loss of less than a score of men, and took possession of all the northern half of the island. Its conquest cost the lives of less than 100 Marines. Japanese deaths were at the ratio of 20 to 1.

Tinian already has yielded one of the richest prizes in the Marianas—the great Ushi airfield from which observation planes already are operating.

Expand Guam Beachhead The American beachhead, at Port Apra, Guam, expanded northward toward Agaña and flowed inland two miles to encompass three high points. The Yanks also pushed 500 yards farther out on the Orote airstrip and Sunay naval base. Japanese killed in the Marianas campaign to date: Saipan, 21,063; Guam, 4,700; Tinian, more than 2,000.

On China's Yunnan front, Chinese troops fought into the suburbs of Tengchung, main Japanese base.

In the spreading battle of Hunan province, both sides rushed up tanks and infantry, but the key rail city of Hengyang remained in Chinese hands. Warhawk fighter planes supported the Chinese defenders of Pingxiang. Kiagsi province town 95 miles northwest of Hengyang.

A Chinese-American composite bombardment wing claimed destruction of 34 Japanese planes on the ground at an airfield near Tungting lake in northern Hunan Friday.

Mass Robot Attacks Adopted by Germans

London, July 29.—(AP)—The Nazis adopted a new "mass attack" technique in hurling flying bombs at London and southern England during the night, sending the robots over in batches with brief lulls between each onslaught.

The attacks took a fresh toll of casualties, including patients in a hospital which was badly damaged. Among the victims were nurses, some of whom despite their injuries, helped volunteer rescue squads carry patients from the hospital under showers of sparks and red hot embers.

The back part of the hospital was wrecked, the main force of the bomb hitting an adjoining building that caught fire.

Workers spent most of the night digging for bodies at the spot where a flying bomb blew up a crowded restaurant at noon yesterday, killing and trapping a number of persons.

Probe of Political Action Committee's Activities Probable

CIO Organization is Considered Violator of Hatch Act

Washington, July 29.—(AP)—An investigation under the Hatch "no-politics" act in the middle of a national election campaign was under consideration today by the Dies committee. It was being considered by the group on the basis of a report linking high government officials with activities of the CIO Political Action Committee, labeling that organization as "the political arm" of the new deal.

Three Republican members of the committee investigating un-American activities called for a "thorough investigation" of the PAC and possible Hatch Act violations as Chairman Martin Dies (D-Tex.) debated whether to turn over to the justice department or pursue further through his committee evidence in the report he made public yesterday.

Prepared by Robert E. Stripling, chief committee investigator, the report cited records of numerous telephone calls and telegrams exchanged between the PAC's New York office and government officials here.

What Was Said Unknown What was said in the conversations and messages, the report did not pretend to know, but Stripling said they were paid for by the PAC.

The act, sponsored by Senator Hatch (D-NM), bans political activity by most federal officials. Two of the calls cited in Stripling's report were to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. One, listed as

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Nine out of ten people I meet are speculating whether it really was Adolf Hitler's professional "double", Heinrich Bergner, who lost his life in the bomb explosion in the dictator's headquarters July 26, as announced, or whether the Nazi fuhrer himself was killed.

That creates just the type of mystery the average person craves, and I'm afraid we sometimes go out of our way to try to substantiate such ideas just for the thrill. Anyhow, it strikes me we should try to rationalize this one, especially since we are approaching the end of the European war and the leadership in Germany is of vital importance.

First let's take as positive a stand as possible: I believe that until we have proof to the contrary we should accept as true the Nazi official story that Hitler is alive. This apparently is the attitude of allied officials and of the allied press. The reason is that there hasn't been a single fact produced thus far to discredit the claim seriously, and there are several points which support it indirectly.

It also must be said no actual proof has been given us that the fuhrer is alive. There's no use, for instance, in assuring us that a voice we hear over the air is Hitler's, for the world is full of mimics who can imitate anything that talks. And photographs can tell whoppers.

So if you insist on believing

Doll Dealer Faces Prison; Wrote Code Letter About Ships

Epistle Containing Information About U. S. Navy Miscarries

New York, July 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Velva Lee Dickinson, an antique doll dealer, pleaded guilty yesterday in U. S. District court to a charge of violating the wartime censorship law by sending a coded letter to South America—a letter containing information about naval vessels hidden in obscure phrases.

Judge Stephen S. Chandler, Jr., dismissed a second indictment charging her with espionage, conviction on which could have meant the death penalty. She faces a maximum sentence on Aug. 14 of 10 years in prison and a fine of $10,000.

U. S. Attorney James B. E. McNally said he had asked dismissal of the espionage indictment because the government's case was "highly circumstantial in nature" since, "in the absence of confederates of the defendant, who are now in Japan," Mrs. Dickinson probably would claim the letter mentioned in that indictment was written by her husband, who died in 1943.

Letter Is Returned McNally said the censorship indictment grew out of an investigation of a letter addressed to Senora Inez Lopez de Molinari, Buenos Aires, Argentina. It failed to reach its destination and was returned to the inscribed address of the sender which McNally said Mrs. Dickinson gave as Mrs. Mary E. Wallace, Springfield, O., one of ed area between Canisy and Notre Dame-de-Cenilly. Front reports indicated these virtually surrounded elements were being mopped up.

Fight for Survival

This appeared to be mostly a fight for survival by German remnants left behind to try to hold open a route along the coast for the enemy's battered infantry.

Associated Press correspondent Hal Boyle reported American tanks had brought Brehal within gun range after capturing the village of Le Mesnil-Aubert, seven miles south of Coutances.

Another column to the east reached St. Denis-Le Gast, ten miles from the coast and nine miles south of Coutances.

Any enemy forces remaining above Coutances were doomed by a spearhead of tanks that reached the Atlantic below the Sienne estuary south of Coutances.

The fighting east of Coutances centered around the hamlet of Pont Brocard, on a highway between Canisy and Notre Dame-de-Cenilly after the Americans jumped off at dawn on the fifth successive day of their offensive.

Successive Movement

Successive classic encircling movements threatened to push the enemy's whole Normandy front back to a seventy-mile line anchored on the northeast at Caen and on the southwest at Avranches, at the base of the Brest peninsula.

Rommel was concentrating reinforcements from both the east and west. A convoy of three armed minisweepers and four landing craft crowded with soldiers approaching the Atlantic port of Granville, 15 miles south of Coutances, was bombed and machine-gunned by naval Grumman Avengers who sank a landing craft and damaged a minisweeper. A total of 250 German tanks were reported knocked out by American fighter planes alone in the last three days.

AERIAL ACTIVITIES

London, July 29.—(AP)—A force of 1,100 American heavy bombers struck Germany's Leuna synthetic oil plant at Merseburg for the second successive day this morning, and also attacked the northwestern port of Bremen.

The blow was in the wake of an attack by 1,000 heavy British warplanes which blasted Stuttgart, Hamburg, Frankfurt and Buzsomb bases in France at a cost of 62 planes.

A German occupied village in the Brest peninsula believed to be a German headquarters was wiped out by RAF Spitfire fighter bombers in an attack at breakfast time this morning.

An Air Ministry communiqué said the night bombers were engaged in numerous combats over the Reich by German night fighters and that the British shot down at least 21 German planes and many more probably were destroyed or damaged.

The Air Ministry communiqué said thick clouds obscured bombing results over Stuttgart, which previously had been battered three times in a week, but returning crews reported large fires were left burning in the Hamburg target area.

The RAF assault followed intense aerial operations yesterday during which some 1,500 American heavy bombers from British and Italian bases hit Nazi oil centers at Ploesti and Merseburg.

General Takes Prisoner

Tank elements in a column miles long hammered on six miles south of Coutances as a U. S. general on foot, with a prisoner he personally captured, led triumphant American forces into the city.

(NBC reporter John McVane broadcast from France this morning that the Germans had counterattacked with tanks south of Tossy-Sur-Vire, half way to the next good enemy communications center of Vire, and were beaten back after they "broke through momentarily."

The U. S. Ninth Air Force reported more than 80 German tanks were knocked out of action Wednesday and Thursday, and 212 other vehicles were destroyed in attacks on strongpoints and troop concentrations.

Rommel apparently had decided at last to shift part of the armor which he has been holding south of Caen to meet any impending blow from Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's forces.

Observers reported a movement of enemy vehicles yesterday along lateral roads toward the American sector from the Caen area, where Rommel had concentrated at least six tank divisions. When the American blow fell there were no more than two armored enemy divisions among the 12 deployed against U. S. troops, according to unofficial estimates.

Hitler dead — a rather jolly thought, as our British cousins might remark—you can't be sent to prison for it. However, don't bank on the argument that he couldn't have escaped from a bomb which exploded so close to him. Things stranger than that are happening daily in the war zones. I've seen plenty myself.

One strong argument (not proof) against Hitler being dead is that it isn't likely it could be kept secret many hours. Too many people would know it.

Then I think we must consider this: This decree (supposedly by Hitler) for total mobilization is in the hands of three of his chief captains—Reichsmarschal Goering, the crown prince, propaganda Minister Goebbels, who has been given plenipotentiary powers; and Gestapo Chief Himmler, who's in command of all the armed forces within the Reich. Each of this trio is personally ambitious and it's said that any one of them would cut the throats of the other two for half a dime.

Thus it's difficult to believe that they could work in harmony in such an upheaval unless a powerful hand was holding them in check. The present crisis is a "natural" for an adventurous man to seize power. It's no secret that the murderous Himmler would try to reach the top if Hitler weren't in the way.

The report mentioned telephone calls from PAC headquarters to these White House aides: David K. Niles, Jonathan Daniels, Lowell Mellett, Samuel Rosenman and an unidentified "Miss Dutchesse."

Other Calls Listed

Other calls, the report said, were to Labor Secretary Perkins, Attorney General Biddle, OWI Director Elmer Davis, OPA Director Chester Bowles, Maury Maverick, head of the Smaller War Plants Corporation, and a host of lesser lights, all in the higher-salaried brackets, in a dozen other agencies.

Some of the calls, Stripling said, were made during the intense election campaigns that saw one committee member, Joe Starnes of Alabama, defeated, and Dies himself withdraw from the race for renomination.

Most of the calls recorded were between December, 1943, and May, 1944. Niles, one of the president's principal advisers, was listed as having been on the receiving end of thirteen of them.

an agriculture department official with regard to recent negotiations for the importation of Argentine corn to help meet a grain shortage in this country had had embarrassing repercussions in the South American country.

The instruction if rigidly adhered to, would affect sources of information on a broad field of farm department and War Food Administration activities. Included, for example, would be lend-lease food negotiations, discussions with Cuba with regard to purchase of sugar, negotiations with Canada with regard to importation of grains to supplement this country's food supplies, and discussions and negotiations with other countries with regard to postwar commodity agreements.

Turkey Preparing for War, Germans Declare

By The Associated Press

The German radio, adding to reports that a break in Turkish-German relations was imminent, said today that a complete suspension of Turkish shipping had taken place along with "numerous draftings" of men into the Turkish army and that Turkish summer maneuvers were close military secrets.

Transocean, German news agency, said Turkish ships of the Black Sea routes were assembled at the mouth of the Bosphorus near Istanbul, while ships which had plied the Aegean and Mediterranean were gathered in the Sea of Marmora.

Big Gun Ace

Outstanding factor in Red army's defeat of Nazis ever since Stalingrad has been Russians' overwhining superiority in offensive artillery work. Credit for this goes to publicity-seeking Nikolai Voronoff, above, marshal of artillery, nicknamed "the man who married a cannon." Proving his thesis that "a cannon is mightier than a tank," his guns do not fire from safe distances behind the front but roll ahead with the first wave, battling Nazi tank columns by themselves.

her customers. Mrs. Wallace became suspicious, McNally said, and immediately notified postal authorities.

The U. S. attorney said that in that letter Mrs. Dickinson, who visited the west coast in January, 1942, wrote:

"The only new dolls I have are three lovely Irish dolls. One of these three dolls is an old fisherman with a net over his back, another is an old woman with wood on her back and the third is a little boy."

What Letter Meant

Cryptographers, McNally said, discovered the "fisherman with a net over his back" meant an aircraft carrier, the "old woman with wood on her back" meant a battleship with its large superstructure and "a little boy" signified a destroyer.

In another place, McNally said, Mrs. Dickinson wrote: "You wrote me that you had sent a letter to Mr. Shaw. Well, I went to see Mr. Shaw. He destroyed your letter, you know he has been ill. His car was damaged but is being repaired now. I saw a few of his family about. They all say Mr. Shaw will be back to work soon."

That, McNally said, meant that the destroyer Shaw had been damaged, was being repaired and that it would be back in action soon.

myst, nazi strongholds on the route to Germany. Rokossovsky's advance units stabbed forward during the night from Koblenz, 20 miles southeast of Warsaw, and powerful artillery pieces behind them were wheeled into position.

Same Old Story

A London broadcast received by OWI said Russian troops had reached "the outer fortifications of Warsaw," quoting Moscow press dispatches.

The Marshal left units under Kuban Cossack Gen. Pilev to help special mopping up squads take care of three nazi divisions pinned against the western Bug river. Field dispatches said it was the same old story—thousands of Germans waiting too long to retreat. Upwards of 20,000 nazis were believed hemmed in, with escape virtually out of the question. With Bielski Litovsk captured, Rokossovsky freed numerous units for fighting against Siedlee.

New Publication Chief For Stars and Stripes

Rome, July 29.—(AP)—The name of Capt. Robert Neville, 39-year-old New York newspaperman and foreign correspondent, appeared at the masthead of the Stars and Stripes Friday as the new publications officer succeeding Col. Egbert White who was removed a fortnight ago.

Simultaneously staff members in Rome were informed the paper had been transferred from the auspices of the Services of Supply to the Public Relations Office of the Army.

Staff members expressed enthusiasm over the appointment of Neville, but some said they were inclined to regard public relations control as a possible opening to transform Stars and Stripes from a G. I. newspaper to strictly an Army organ.

But both Neville and White plugged for more freedom to report controversial issues on the home front, including details of the political campaign, and for keeping the paper as "G. I." as possible in the presentation of the news and views of soldiers.

Retiring Director of Labor Reports

Chicago, July 29.—(AP)—The Illinois department of labor now is operating smoothly with expert personnel and the cause of labor is being well served, Francis B. Murphy, state director of labor, said today.

Murphy, who is resigning his post, effective Monday, presented a report to Governor Green on what has been accomplished in the interests of labor in the past three years.

Recommending return to the state of employment service activities, now in the hands of the War Manpower Commission, Murphy says:

"The retention by the federal government of a service so basically of a state nature is a handicap to efficiency in production and a violation of states' rights."

The state's unemployment compensation system is prepared to meet all foreseeable demands, the director reported. Reserves have increased almost $200,000,000 since September, 1941, and there is now more than $120,000,000 in the trust fund earmarked for benefit payments to qualified unemployed workers.

BACKFIRING FRANK

Tacoma, Wash.—Bob Derby's life-of-the-party prank backfired—literally.

The 26-year-old Tacoman told hospital attendants that he prepared a "blank" cartridge to explode under the chair of a friend at a party. He made the mistake of trying it on himself first. A police ambulance took him, lying face down, to the hospital.

Ill Soldier Lauds Hospitality Shown by Rochelle People

Camp Grant, Ill.—Pvt. Alfred Jungen is lavish in his praise of northern Illinois hospitality. On July 3, he started on a 21-day furlough from the Kingman, Ariz., Army Air corps base. Two days later and as the bus he was aboard neared Rochelle, 70 miles from Clinton, Ill., his destination, he became seriously ill.

An Army Medical officer, who was present, diagnosed the case as an appendicitis attack and Jungen was rushed to Rochelle City hospital by a civilian, proprietor of the business establishment where the bus had stopped.

Jungen submitted to an emergency operation that evening and when he regained consciousness he noticed, much to his surprise, his wife at his bedside. A kind-hearted Rochelle citizen had traveled to Clinton after her.

On July 11, the soldier was removed to Camp Grant Station hospital in an ambulance. His wife accompanied him there and although post visitors are limited to three days' residence at the Camp Grant Guest house, the rule was suspended because of the emergency.

Jungen was dismissed from the hospital Wednesday and once again struck out for Clinton, but he will not lose any furlough time. Through the efforts of medical corps officers and a post chaplain his furlough had been advanced 10 days, making up for the time he spent in hospitals.

"Civilian and military personnel have been most gracious to my wife and I," Jungen stated.

Mother of 5 Sons, All in Navy, Cited for Her War Work

Chicago, July 29—(AP)—Mrs. Henrietta Schmoeger, 59, mother of five sons in the Navy, yesterday was cited as an outstanding war worker by Charles P. Casey, state director of the War Manpower Commission.

Casey recommended her and other war workers and employees of the LaSalle area for achieving "outstanding results in combating absenteeism."

He said the area's average absenteeism rate was 2.6 per cent, and that the WMC considered any rate below 5 per cent commendable.

Mrs. Schmoeger has had two days' unexcused absence since she went to work last August after being a housewife 39 years. Now she is a condenser assembler at the Electrical Utilities Company, Inc., making parts for the big B-29 bombers.

"The women want to work as hard as they can," she said in discussing the absenteeism record. "A lot of them have children in service. Some of them have husbands in the war."

For the duration Mrs. Schmoeger's husband, Otto, another LaSalle war worker, will divide cooking duties with his wife, and their youngest daughter, Avalon, will help with the housework. When the family's home again, she says she'll turn over her factory job to one of her boys and go back to full time housekeeping.

The Schmoegers' sons are Otto, Jr., 37, an instructor at Great Lakes Naval Training Center; Floyd, 33, in the Seabees; Vernon, 29, on convoy duty in the Atlantic theater; Robert, 22, a Coast Guardsman; and Fred, 20, on duty in the Southwest Pacific.

Her oldest daughter is married to an Army captain, and her second daughter, Hazel, is married to a war worker.

Mrs. Schmoeger and Casey will talk on a program over radio station WOFL at 5:15 p. m. today.

Decatur's Post-War Plan Called 'Model'

Decatur, Ill., July 29—(AP)—The Illinois Postwar Planning Commission has cited Decatur, Kanakake and Chicago as the Illinois cities making the most progress in planning effort.

Anderson Pace, chairman of the 24-man state commission, said the Decatur project has been chosen as the model procedure for other Illinois cities to follow in planning for the postwar period.

A full employment schedule in this area was indicated, Pace said, by an Association of Commerce survey of Decatur industries.

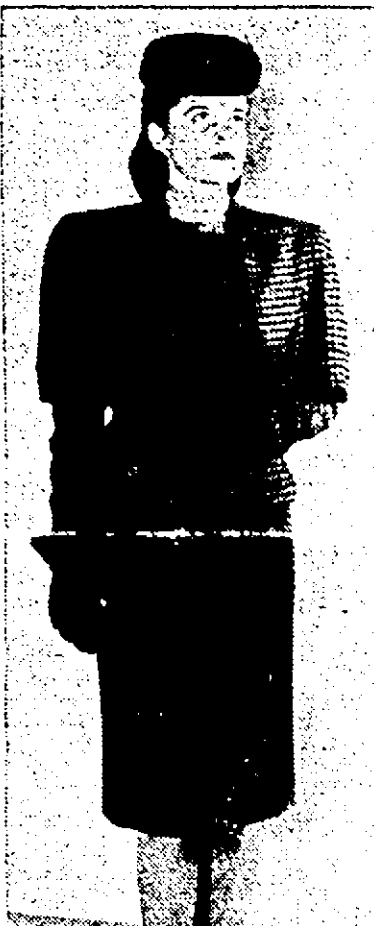

Capes Cap Fall Fashions

BY ERSIE KINARD
NEA Staff Writer

New York.—Because there is something about a cape that brings out the actress in a woman, you'll see plenty of these dramatic styles in the fall and winter fashions.

That style is the jaunty elbow-length capelet of fur or fabric or a combination of both, but you'll see it more often as the matching unit of a suit from which it can be detached and used as a toss-on wrap to serve many wardrobe uses for early fall. Typical of this fashion is the capelet, starred in the four-piece outfit shown at the left, designed by Ben Reig and launched in his fall collection. Under the detachable collared capelet is a low neckline of matching red and black checked wool and a red crepe blouse.

Representing the other extreme of this fashion is the great-lady cape ensemble intended to bring out the actress in you either when worn with its own suit, with the blouse and skirt of that suit, or with other companions picked at random from your wardrobe. Such versatility is offered in the Hattie Carnegie-designed ensemble, shown at the right—a three-piece outfit of gold woodpecker check wool, including a tailored suit, a blouse and a gracefully cut cape.

GOP Candidates to Cover Whole Nation

Columbus, O., July 29—(AP)—The Republican standard bearers—Thomas E. Dewey and John W. Bricker—will "cover the whole country" in their "election" campaign, Governor Bricker said here.

Bricker, who returned yesterday from a two-day visit in Albany, N. Y., with the Republican presidential nominee, party chairman Herbert Brownell, Jr., and others, said they planned to begin their campaign about Sept. 1.

"We're going to cover the whole country," he said. "There will be no halfway campaign. It will be complete, thorough and aggressive all the way."

Dewey will likely come into Ohio for "one or two speeches," Bricker said, adding "I would like for him to come very much."

The Ohio governor plans to travel by rail—probably two extra coaches attached to a regular train.

THE bleachers (that is the shady spots under a couple of trees) were filled to overflowing for the second annual rodeo given at Byron Countryman's fox farm at Dixon by the younger set of the neighborhood. No second hand account can really do justice to all the events of the afternoon.

AS at any rodeo, the first big center of attraction was a concession booth. Here the very young (those who were too little to perform) clutched nickels tightly in their hands as they asked for pop and candy and gum and cookies all in one chorus. Managers Raymond Countryman and Dewey Burke did the best they could to help storekeeper Paul Arnold as the rush of trade came on them.

EVERY rodeo must have its cowboy "dude" with the fancy dress and proper swagger. John Cahill furnished this part of the "color." He even had the appropriate sunburn (some of it artificial) and a mustache of large painted proportions.

THE show opened with cowboy girl Nancy Countryman giving an exhibition ride around the ring. Other cowgirls who followed in the same act were Ann Arnold and Sue Gardner. By this time the managers were more free and from then on they were cowboys.

THE next feature attraction was by Josephine, the goat. Here is where the "papas" who were present began to become involved. Daddy (Dr. H. D.) Burke had to hitch the steed up to her small cart and then he became chief goat leader as performers and spectators took turns having rides.

JOSEPHINE was fussy about who she pulled and it took considerable amount of persuasion on the part of the Burkes to keep Josephine even slightly on the move. Finally little three-year-old Margaret Burke took her turn. She nonchalantly slapped the goat with the lines and away the steed went to the great delight of her little passenger. Periodically Josephine would put on her "four-foot" brakes and then Margaret would give another gentle slap with the lines and away Daddy and goat and rider would go around the circle. This was the performance that captured the first prize for Margaret.

IT was during the "goat" act that chief photographer Daddy (Atty. Morey) Pires went into action. No "Four photos for a quarter" studio ever had customers lined up with any more anticipation. Pictures will be on display at his house at a later date.

THE "Three little sisters" Nancy, Sue and Ann put on several specialty acts including songs, baton twirling and tap dancing. The dancing was a bit hindered by the gravel footing of the rodeo arena.

NOW it was the turn of chief roustabout (Daddy) Byron Countryman to go into action. His job was to saddle the "wildest horse south of the Rock River" (with limitations). Finally the steed was ready and manager Paul took to the saddle. He gave a commendable performance and for this feat he won second prize.

ALL during the performance came month-old tigers (kittens to the unimaginative) wandered around among the spectators and when the show was over several of them found themselves on the way to new homes after "mamas" had been convinced that the addition would be "no trouble at all" and "I do want one so bad, PLEASE."

ALL in all it was a gay show. The act of giving the money they made to the stop-over center is paralleled by last year's act of thoughtfulness when their little playmate Joyce Stanley broke her arm the night before the show and was the recipient of a present bought by the money taken in. By the way, tickets cost three cents for children and seven cents for adults.

IT'S groups of youngsters like this with imagination and ambition who will never find their names in the delinquency roles. When you're busy you're not in trouble and there is always something to keep you busy if you look around and think there is.

Frances Farmer in Jail as "Volunteer"

Antioch, Calif., July 29—(AP)—Blonde, tousle-headed Frances Farmer voluntarily spent last night in city jail awaiting the arrival of her father, Attorney E. M. Farmer, from Reno, Nev., after her arrest on a vagrancy charge.

Police Chief Al Leroy said the former film actress, whom he arrested yesterday for "hanging around" Antioch for "three or four days", penniless and without visible means of support, was contented to stay in jail until arrival of her father.

Attired in blue jeans and work shirt, Miss Farmer pleaded guilty before Justice of Peace Tom Milan, who fined her $10 and suspended sentence.

Miss Farmer had been taken to Reno for treatment after her release from Western State Hospital at Steilacoom, Wash., where she had been pronounced "completely cured" of a mental illness.

10, he wrote his mother, Mrs. Nell O'Dair, two days after the reception. He was still pretty stary-eyed about the whole affair. He enclosed the invitation.

Occasionally Dick writes home for something his mother can send him, but his request in this letter is the strangest—some mayonnaise dressing. His letter says:

New Delhi, July 12, 1941.

Hi Mom et Bros.

I know I am writing a bit often-er than is customary for me but notice enclosed invitation which I accepted and believe me had per-haps one of the really great times of my life. In the first place, Viceroy Wavell and the Vice Regent are really swell people and were a pleasure to meet and speak to face to face. The palace is nothing short of beautiful, with its marble walls, spacious rooms, size-able glass chandeliers, open court-yards, staircases, ball rooms and a million new and different things to me—probably common to every regal estate. And then at the con-cert who should show up but Noel Coward who gave a good perfor-mance with all the songs he has written. He sang and read—a truly great performer. And finally we were escorted into the East Court for a neat little buffet sup-per. Hed petite sandwiches, cakes, ice cream, a bit of old English beer and other drinks. I was so star-eyed I would have been con-spicuous had it not been that ev-eryone else of the American group was too. Oh yes, there were hun-dreds of guests. I was chosen by lot, not by my good looks, mind you. There were many allied rep-resentatives there. Especially

Milledgeville is Dixon Opposition in Sunday's Game

Several Stars Missing for Clash at Hosts' Cow Pasture Field

For the second Sunday in a row the Dixon Knacks will be away from Reynolds field tomorrow, playing Milledgeville. In Dixon, GROP, with Frank Casselman hurling from the port side, will tackle Freeman's, who will counter with Johnny "Barber" Scrivens.

Manager Emmert's lineup may prove to be somewhat of a mystery; as several players are journeying to Chicago for a busman's holiday and Doc Bloyer has not made an appearance as yet from his draft board. It is expected, however, that Hi will go along with his old-timers in deference to using inexperienced youth.

If Doc Bloyer does make an appearance, Went Frey will play the initial sack, with Joe Sweeney shifting to second. Although it will be a substitute lineup, the Knacks should have no trouble handling the small but scrappy Milledgeville gang.

Two or three of the boys have come up for praise recently by Manager Emmert. He says: "Sloan and Meinke are the most promising of my rookie crop, but Utz is playing a good game for a little fellow."

Promises Comedy

Tomorrow's encounter promises to be a comedy of errors. It is reported that the host's ball lay-out is nothing to brag about, being situated in a cow pasture. The pitchers may have trouble shooting their deliveries up-hill to the batters, as this is one phase of the game that is often neglected by stars—playing cow pasture ball. It is also said that any ball hit out of Milledgeville's infield will go for a hit. So don't expect too much of Dixon tomorrow. Emmert will settle for a win.

ON THE SIDE—All players are asked to report at the Knack Club tomorrow at 12:45 p. m. Two old time baseball enthusiasts, Bill Short, eagle eyed umpire, and Harry Switzer, engaged in a batting contest at practice last evening. . . . Bill won, after curving over the fence foul and taking several rusty cuts which missed entirely. Harry didn't get a loud shout, complaining, "I couldn't see the ball." . . . How's All-Stars will give the Prophetstown Prophets a taste of their left-hand magic tomorrow at Howe's diamond. . . . Starting Aug. 6, Dixon will be at home for four straight Sundays, during which some good teams will be met.

Pensive Pegged 6 to 1 in Day's Handicap

Chicago, July 29. — (AP) — George Drumm was the favorite, but Pensive, the season's forgotten horse, was the steppier to watch in today's $50,000 added Arlington Handicap.

The rich mile-and-a-quarter race in which nine starters were named was almost a perfect spot for Pensive, defeated four times since his Kentucky Derby-Preakness triumphs, to swell his 1941 earnings to almost $200,000.

The waging folk made Allen Drumhellers' Georgie Drumm, one-time selling platter, an early "2-1" choice and even rate John March's Valdina Foo, Dave Straus' Dilly Trouble, and Howard Wells' Equifox ahead of Pensive, who was pegged at 6-1.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

BY FRITZ HOWELL
(Pinch-hitting for Hugh Fullerton, Jr.)
New York, July 29. — (AP) — Bits of this and that from here and there. . . .

Hal Trosky of the Chicago White Sox chews tobacco in bed. . . . Johnny Dickshot of the same club packs in snuff and sleeps like a babe from curfew until breakfast. . . . Marty McManus, the old St. Louis Brownie, is still in baseball—managing the Kenosha Comets in the American Girls Professional League. . . . Herman Taylor, Philly boxing promoter who used to smoke four packs a day, quit just like that four years ago and hasn't touched a cigarette since. . . . The St. Louis Cards are winning so easily and often that the baseball bookies are planning to "build a fence around 'em" so far as betting is concerned. . . . George Magerkurth, the umpire had 76 professional fights before turning to baseball—and he hasn't lost a decision as an arbiter.

DO YOU KNOW, DEPT?

No. 1—Who was the only player to win the home run championship in both major leagues?

No. 2—who was the only pitcher to lead both major leagues in winning percentages?

(Don't look now—the answers are at the end.)

INTRODUCING

Ford Andrews, the Huronite, Huron, S. D.: "Two men are outside", an usher said to the manager, just before Sunday's game. "They want passes to the game," said they were friends of the umpire."

"Throw 'em out", replied the manager. "They're imposters. No umpire ever had two friends."

PITTER-PATTER

The Holy Cross team of New Orleans, which sent pitcher Dick Callahan to the Boston Red Sox, and was winner of the Louisiana American Legion title with a 31-0 conquest of Baton Rouge, has challenged the Southern Association Pelicans to a contest—and probably will get it. . . . After Thursday night's Phillie-Card twilight double header at Philadelphia, the loud-speaker announced "no game tomorrow"—and 12,000 Phillie fans applauded. . . . just 16 years ago today, July 29, 1928, the Cleveland Indians scored 17 runs in the first two innings against the world champion Yankees. . . . Samuel D. Riddle, owner of Man O'War and "Laird of Glen Riddle, Pa.", is still active around the Garden State park race paddock despite his 83 years.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

No. 1—Sam Crawford, 16 homers for Cincinnati in 1901, and seven for Detroit in 1908.

No. 2—Jack Chesbro, 28-6 for Pittsburgh in 1902, and 41-12 for New York in 1901.

Nickel Cup of Coffee Back Everywhere Soon

Washington, July 29.—(AP) — The five-cent cup of coffee, an old American institution the war changed in some restaurants, will be back nearly everywhere next Monday.

As announced earlier by the Office of Price Administration, only eating places that "charged more than a nickel for coffee in October, 1912, may continue to do so. All later hikes to six or seven cents or more are out.

The ruling is part of a regulation extending to the entire country the "freeze" of restaurant prices already in effect in most states.

SUPPLY HOSPITALS BY AIR

More than 235 tons of medical, laboratory and general hospital supplies were sent by air transport into China by the American Red Cross between November 1913 and May 1914.

Simple thing to ask, isn't it. But think about the people back of you, waiting their turn to find a place in the bus, after a hard day at war work, and of the driver too, who is trying to get them home on schedule. Little things like this go a long way toward making life happier for all.

Hi Emmert Finishes Thirtieth Year in Dixon Diamond Scene

Manager of Dixon Knacks Observes 50th Birthday

"I'm in to give baseball the works, even if I take the rap for putting baseball over in Dixon. We have a promising ball club this year and everything is going great," smiled talkative Howard "Hi" Emmert, pilot of Dixon's Knacks, who today is celebrating his fiftieth birthday anniversary.

"Our old timers are playing bang-up ball. They're the type who like to win. Yes, I'm mighty glad to see these old timers. Among our youngsters, I particularly like Sloan and Meinke," added Hi, in discussing his current club, which is studded with green youngsters with a dash of experienced age.

Hi has been a Dixon baseball figure for 30 years, starting to play when only 14. The old Dixon Browns, a salaried group managed by Charlie Miller, was Hi's first team. "It was a team studded with good players," recalled Hi. Such men as Jim Devine, Gus Wimpleberg, Jess Whitebread, Milt Vaughan (now a football and basketball official), Frank Curran, and Charlie Birkley comprised that Brown outfit of 1914, and Hi was among them playing second and catching.

Johns Independents

From the Browns, Hi, at various times a third sacker, second baseman and catcher, progressed to a later edition of the Browns. Then he performed at second for the J. I. Case Co. nine. Of this experience Hi says, "I played the best ball of my career." Reynolds Wire then claimed him for their club. After a short whirl with this squad, he joined the Dixon Independents, forerunners of the Knacks.

When the Knacks were organized in 1933, Hi joined as a coach to Manager Bert Cummings. The Knacks finished second that year and the following year, with Hi upped to manager, the team captured the Illinois State League title.

"1910 was my big year," beamed Hi. "My Knacks copped the flag in hardball, Reynolds Wire captured the softball championship of Dixon, and the All-Stars (James Billiards' softball stars) won 75% of their games facing some tough competition. I also managed the League All-Star team against the Pern Merchants, and although we lost 5 to 3, I got a bang out of it."

Has Seen Parade

Hi has watched a parade of baseball stars during his career. Among the outstanding hurlers he has seen, Hi especially liked "Buck" Lightner, Ole Prestegard, and, of course, Lou Bevilacqua, a pitcher who went from Hi's club to the Washington Senators. Bus Carlson, Earl Flanigan, and a fleet outfielder named Rucker stick in his memory of former Knack squads. "Bus came along fast," he reminisced, and "Earl always played a snappy game."

Hi, who says he was just an "average hitter" during his playing days, is responsible for the reforming of the Knacks this year after a two-year absence. And with things going smoothly and the Knacks fronting one of the best clubs in this vicinity, Hi deserves all credit. Some men would have let the responsibility slide, but not Hi, a scrappy fighter always in there to the best of his ability.

Promising to carry on for the duration, Hi says, "I especially want to thank the fans, who have been swell in turning out for games and contributing money."

The best of luck to you, Hi, for another fifty years!

Another Guy from Toledo Is Keeping Brownies in Race

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Zarilla's amazing hitting spree for a .651 average in the last seven Bronic games was accepted today in baseball circles as one of the chief factors keeping the St. Louis Americans out front in the junior loop flag chase despite the rush of Boston and Cleveland.

When Zarilla stepped into the lineup last Sunday to replace left fielder Chet Laabs, who had set the league on fire with a home runstreak two years ago, he was just another guy from Toledo.

Last night's three hits as the Browns thumped Philadelphia, 8-5, upped his total to 17 in his last 26 at bats and boosted his all-season mark to .301. Most of his appearances have been reserved for opposition right handed pitching and he has been hitting them like he owned them.

As the Browns finished business with the A's and prepared to welcome the slumping Washington Senators, they had won 7 of 12 starts against eastern clubs on the current home stand and boasted a 2½ game lead on New York and Boston, virtually tied for second although the Yanks held a one-point edge.

Dizzy Trout Posted

Boston clubbed Detroit's Dizzy Trout for a lopsided 15-5 pasting yesterday as Emmett O'Neil chalked up his third win. In taking 7 of 11 from the western teams, the Sox hit the ball at a .315 clip to make up for spotty hurling. The Yanks split their set with Cleveland by taking a 13-7 verdict for Ernie Bonham's sixth straight victory. Nick Etten and Johnny Lindell chipped in homers to help hand Al Smith his eighth loss.

Chicago got a neat 8-hit job by rookie Ed Lopat to trim Washington, 8-2. Johnny Dickshot's bases-loaded triple off lefty LeFebvre sparked a 5-run Chicago third inning as the White Sox pulled even with the .500 mark and sent the Sens down for their 11th loss in 12 games. Jimmy Dykes' men, who have played fewer games than any other club in the league, moved to within six lengths of the top to again become serious contenders.

Bill Voiselle of the New York Giants blanked Pittsburgh, 4-0, for his 13th victory and first shut out to take over the strike out lead of the majors at 101.

Freak Storm Wednesday Eve

Farmers living south of town report that a severe wind storm following a narrow path, passed from west to east between 6:30 and 7 o'clock Wednesday evening. Several trees were uprooted within the narrow confines of the storm, which evidently was a continuance of the one which was reported in Thursday evening's Telegraph.

Bob Chipman defeated his old Brooklyn mates for the second time as he hurled Chicago to a 4-1 edge with the help of some heavy clouting by Stan Hack and Ival Goodman. Philadelphia, Boston, St. Louis and Cincinnati were not scheduled in the National.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. will meet on Friday, August 4, at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Blocher at 2:30 p. m. This is the annual business meeting when yearly reports will be given and officers elected for the coming year. It is hoped that there may be a full attendance of members. Visitors are always welcomed. There will be arrangements made for transportation for those who have no way to go. For roll call, each member is asked to give "an aim for W. C. T. U. for next year." If each one will bring a contribution to this part of the program it will greatly add to the interest of the meeting.
